

MURRUN NAROON - NATURAL BURIAL BUSHLAND

Murrun Naroon 'Life Spirit' is a unique natural burial option positioned in a beautiful native bushland environment at Bunurong Memorial Park.

This area provides a sense of openness and the ability to reconnect with nature and give back through returning our bodies to the earth to nourish new life within a distinctly native area.

Each position is identified and marked by trees, giving families the opportunity to be one with nature when they visit. Recognition options within Murrun Naroon are consistent with maintaining the areas native integrity, using only natural materials and seamlessly blend into the bushland.

Environmental standards are followed, assuring that natural burials are giving life and nutrients to the soil allowing native Australian foliage to flourish within the environment. This also means that we only use organic and recyclable materials such as timber, shroud or wicker.

Murrun Naroon gives the ability to re-connect with the earth in a natural and gentle way, leaving minimal impact on a beautiful native bushland, find your unique way to remember.
